Take the advice of Isaac, a seasoned traveler, who knows that true joy is born from both the journey and the destination!

sure to navigate towards the silent auction's bountiful bays and explore the exquisite treasures waiting for you or your most cherished shipmates traveling with you on this journey called life.

501. Something For the Birds

Enrichment is for the birds, too! Whether it's things to tear apart or things to play with, our Zoo birds love to keep their brains and their beaks active.

2 needed at $125 each

502. Ambassador Animal Fun

Toys, tubes, and treats oh my! Our smaller Ambassador Animals need specialized enrichment to keep them happy and healthy when they are taking a break from educating Zoo guests.

2 needed at $125 each

503. Animal Training Supplies

505. Pony Pedicure

This will provide for a farrier service for our pony and donkeys. What's a farrier service you ask? Well, think of it as a pony pedicure. Just like you, our horse and donkeys need regular pedicures to keep their feet healthy. They get them every other month. How often do you get a pedicure for your feet?

10 needed at $150 each

506. Education Program Scholarships

Everyone learns about the rainforest and animal adaptations better when they get to meet the animals face-to-face! Help bring disadvantaged children to the Zoo for an Education Program!

4 Scholarships needed at $250 each

507. Language of Nature

The Santiago Creek ECO Center, presented by the Santa Ana Zoo will feature four (4) different languages to welcome members of Indigenous communities to explore nature. 4 needed at $50

513. Conservation Contribution

The Zoo partners with a number of field conservation projects related to species we have at the Zoo in order to support and further our mission. The critically endangered crested capuchin monkeys in Brazil need our continued help! Funding will support the construction of treetop bridges over roadways so the monkeys and other animals can cross the street without having to go to the ground and risk being struck by a vehicle. Camera tracking devices will be installed on the bridges so biologists can observe the status of wildlife using the crossings. The Zoo previously helped support drone surveys to estimate the number of crested capuchins living in an area of forest and have participated in genomic research so scientists can learn more about this species.
